Dear Diann, I'm so sorry to hear about the loss of your husband, although we are not acquainted please accept our sincerest condolences. Ps 147:3 says "He heals the brokenhearted ones, and he binds up their wounds." We need comfort in many areas of life. One of the greatest causes of grief is the loss of a loved one in death, especially a beloved marriage mate. In times of distress, we may need comfort that soothes our heart, our mind, our emotions, and both our physical and spiritual health. God's Word acknowledges that our heart can be "broken and crushed." (Ps. 51:17) Even in severe situations, God can bring relief to a stricken heart if we pray to him in full faith.

It broke our hearts to lose you, But you did not go alone, for part of us went with you, the day God called you home. Though your smile is gone forever, and your hand we cannot touch, still we have so many memories, if the one we loved so much. Your memories are our keepsake, with which we'll never part. God has you in his keeping, we have you in our hearts. We often sit and think of you, and then of how you died, to think you could not say goodbye, before you closed your eyes. Getting used to being lonesome, that's what we're learning to do, and it's mighty hard to do it, since we got used to having you. You were a great friend to Bill. He misses his 7:00 pm nightly call. We love you Bruce and Diann.
