*God saw she was getting tired,
And a cure was not to be;
So He put His arms around her,
And whispered, "Come with Me."
With tearful eyes we watched her suffer,
And saw her fade away;*

*Although we loved her dearly,
We could not make her stay.
A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands to rest
our hearts to rest*

Mom, You are my cradle and confidant. You're the first person I think about when I wake up; the last when I fall asleep. I'm still in a state of disbelief. Your essence is so strong that it's like you never left. Perhaps that's what it is-you left your mark on everyone. You did good, mom. You did a hell of a job flourishing a cornucopia of life for many, especially your children. You and dad are seared in my heart and memories. It does break my heart, however, to not be able to pick up the phone and let you in on my latest endeavor or excursion. Truth be told, those phone calls were made so I wouldn't feel lonely. Your voice was always reassuring. In your embrace, nothing or no one could hurt me. I was your angel and I could do no wrong. Before your final day, you had been speaking of moving up to Alaska to be with me. And so you have. I love you, mom. You continue to live through your family.

When I stood there beside you, Could you feel me there? My arms were wrapped around you, And I was stroking your hair. I watched your every breath, And prayed that each one wasn't your last. The time we got to share together, Went by too fast. I wanted you to wake up, Please Mom... Open your eyes. Tell me this is a nightmare, And not our goodbyes. As your last breath grew closer, We stood there peacefully together. My heart continually breaking, Because I wanted you forever. Then there it was, Your final breath of air. I didn't want to believe it, This is so cruel and not fair. I held your beautiful face, And prayed you'd breath again. I wasn't ready for you to go, I couldn't admit that this was the end. But then I realized that you were now in peace, And not suffering anymore. You were beginning the life of an Angel, And your body would no loner be sore. I held you close and squeezed you tight, And tried to say goodbye. I've lost my Mom and my number one best friend, All my heart could do is cry. I slowly got up, I wanted so much to stay. I leaned over and gave you one more kiss, It was so hard to walk away. I wish I could feel your loveable cuddle, And your soft and gentle touch. But for now I have to wait, Until we meet again. You will always be in my heart and thoughts, My dear Mom and best friend. Always and Forever, Our hearts will always touch. Always and Forever, I love you mom with all my heart. R.I.P.

To Ben and Family: We are so shocked to hear about Chris. She was such a wonderful woman and so dear to many. She was one heck of a woman. She gave her self whole-heartedly and never had to ask questions. She was there for all, especially for her family. She was so soft spoken with only beautiful words to say. I remember the last time we ran into her at the pinellas park theaters. Emily was with us and Chris was so excited to see her. The hug she gave Emily made us melt. We will miss her dearly. Ben, you were a wonderful husband and the same can be said about you. Your family is very unique and only because of the two of you. Hold onto all the great memories you have for they will make you strong, and they are what will get you through all of this. The sadness you feel right now will turn to joy and happiness knowing what a legacy she left behind for all of us. I wrote this poem for my mother when she past away and now I would like to didcate it to Chris."A tiny tear drop fell from my eye and sadness swept me away. I will not let go of you just yet, I have too much to say.You have always been our hero, the greatest of them all. You loved and chrished each one of us, even when we would fall. You were a warm and caring woman, you were there more than most. We knew that we could rely on you, you were always our leaning post. Family and friends, you have so many, all have stories to be told. They are happy, sad and funny, and some that are still on hold. A tiny tear drop fell from my eye and GOD caught it in his hand, so go now my beautiful lady, you are free to roam the land". God Bless Your Entire Family. We Love You All. I keep seeing people say that Christine was like a mother to them. I think she was like a mother to all of us ! I was always so happy to come over and visit this family since she always made us kids feel like we were always welcomed. I loved talking with her and just being silly. She will always have a huge place in my heart. I am just sorry I have not been around to visit since 2001 from moving to Texas but I still love her very much and will always treasure all the memories I have with your family. RIP.. I know you are now going to be an amazing guardian angel to all who you have loved... Thank you for being such a wonderful mom and friend to us.. XXOO

and a cross was put to her,
So He put His arms around her,
and whispered, "Come with Me."
With trusting eyes we watched her suffer,
and saw her fade away,
"Nuff we loved her dear"
"Nuff we loved her dear"

"Last Kiss", Chris introduced me to this song one night and for some reason I have never forgotten that physical/emotional ache it provoked. As she sang along we all cried together feeling every aching emotion it takes to really, really love someone. She loved and was loved so much! I can't get it out of my head now..."I held her close. I kissed her our last kiss. I found the love that I knew I would miss. But now she's gone even though I hold her tight. I lost my love, my life, that night. Well, a-where, oh, where can my baby be? The Lord took her away from me. She's gone to heaven so I got to be good. So that I can see my baby when I leave this world." I love you so much!!! I know you are only a song away. You will never be forgotten!!

The Magno's was a second home to me growing up. I remember always being able to count on Chris no matter what. One night as kids, Narda and I couldn't sleep at my house (we had convinced ourselves that alien super dogs were going to kidnap us) Narda called her mom and sure enough 5 minutes later we were safely laughing along with her cruising home in the station wagon with purple seats. She was great at making you feel welcome, valued, loved, safe and cared for. I will miss her so much but her memory and her love will always be a part of me. She was good out extracting joy from life. I have so many memories that still make me laugh today! Long live the laughter and joy you brought into my life, mom, I will always be grateful for who you were in my life. Love always, your adopted daughter, Brandy...

To the Magno family: Chris was a great woman, a loving mother, a devoted wife and unbelievable friend. I loved coming over to her house and talking with her. She always had a smile on her face and could make you laugh no matter what the situation was. She was such a beautiful person inside and out. I will miss her, but I know she is where she can watch over all of you! Love, Beth Bluemke
