Karen and I reconnected about a year ago after not seeing Karen since we graduated. I enjoyed her emails which showed me we share the love for our Lord Jesus Christ. We also shared the same political views and I will miss the hilarious cartoons and stories she sent me. Karen's classmates are shocked and so saddened to lose one of our own especially after finding each other again.

Forevermore. She is with her savior the one she longed to see. She lived her life as God called her and was the woman of God that He called her to be. Karen would'nt want us to feel lowness of spirit or an atmosphere of gloom. For Karen is laughing and singing with her long awaited Bridegroom!

We like everyone else were not only shocked but saddened when we heard about Karen. Our prayers are with you all and during this time we must remember we will see Karen again one day. We have many great memories of Karen. We will always remember the encouraging words she has spoken to us and how God used her thru song and Word. We will miss seeing Karen around and had I known when she came to our ordination service that I would only see her again in heaven, I would have given her a extra hug and told her that we love her dearly. Mourning is natural for us all but remember there will come a time to dance. God Bless You. Pastors Roger and Sandy Sparks

Karen has sent me so many wonderful, kind emails and I will miss hearing from her. We went to school together for a while in Franklin, Ohio. She loved her family so much and shared her stories of her trips made with her mother. I will miss seeing her name appear in my emails and hearing what she has been up to. I wish we lived closer so I could have heard her laugh and seen her smile. That's why I loved her emails so much because I could just hear her laughing and imagine a big smile as she pushed the send button. I'm so sorry for your loss. Debbie Smith
