Dearest Justin, Our family misses you dearly and it is still difficult to know you are not on this earth. I know time heals but our hearts are still hurt; I still wish we could turn the clock back. Please continue to watch over Rachael as she tries to put the pieces back together without you in her life. One more thing, you were right, you have a great Mom, little brother and big sister. They are full of love and have such character. Love, Tammy

I remember the good times, my freshman year oh high school. You showed me what it was like to be a man in a lot of ways, witch is amazing because you were still learning how to be a man yourself. I'm not sure if you realized it but you changed my life in many ways. You would teach me how to deal with certain situations and how not to deal with certain situations and for that i will always appreciate you. I will see you and your family today. You will always be my homie.
