I miss you Daddy, I miss your voice and being able to call you when I need help with car repairs or about your vast knowledge of different places from your years of driving truck. I miss your funny stories and jokes. I remember when you used to paint and make shirts of different characters for people's cb handles. I miss your teaching me about cars and carpentry and many other thing. I miss working with you on the shrimp boat. I love you Dad. I know your in heaven with our Lord now but I miss having you here.

I knew Mr Peckham thru Brittany and her mother Renee. He was a veteran like myself so respect was already given to him because he served our country. My love and heart goes out to the Peckham family. He was a great man.

I can remember Dick coming up to our house to deer hunt with daddy and Uncle Dick. Use to have breakfast ready before daylight so they could get in the woods early. You are missed.

I remember meeting "Dick" many years ago and then we were reunited thru Joe his grandson and I could see a lot of the "Old Man" in Joe he truly loved and learned so much from time well spent with his Grampa and I always loved when ever we saw each other at Gulfport diner He would always come over and raise heck with me and mess with me in a good way of course!!! =D He was a great example of a man and a truly good individual proud of His country and a damn good mechanic to boot. He will be missed dearly. May God His entire family and may His memory always bring ya'all closer together. "See ya in heaven Sir! =D
