What can I say about my mom. She was a strong woman always said what was on her mind, never held anything back. She taught me alot, she taught me to stand up for myself walk away if i could and be the bigger person. She was always there for me when i needed her. My mom was my best friend and will always be my best friend. She loved her family she loved babies kids animals and nature. She was always feeding the squirrels and ducks and the turtles. She loved to dance. My mom was loved by many people. She was just one of those people that was very easily loved. She would help anyone she could . I wasnt the best daughter growing up but she still stood by me no matter what i did. Thank you mom for everything you did for me and always standing by me. I love you always in my heart
