Almost 45 yrs ago on a spring afternoon I met Richie and Dave and we have been friends ever since. We were teens and not a care in the world. As years past and we became adults it was then we knew there was all kinds of cares in the world. Worries..sadness..happiness..laughter..love and now loss..we grief..we cry..but most we remember the love that our parents had for us and what they did for us. These are our memories we will hold dear to us forever. They brought us up .taught us right from wrong and sometimes it does come a time that roles are reversed and we find ourselves caring for our parents as they did us..I am touched beyond believe that you Richie stuck by your mom thru thick and thin . I knew you would because that's you. Mom is at peace now and in no more pain and she went knowing how much her children loved her. My condolences to all of you and just remember all those years you had with her..All my love Donna DAMico
