Grammie, I have so many wonderful memories of you! Because of your amazing lasagna, it's one of my favorite foods, and your plum dumplings- I'll never forget. I didn't get a chance to tell you, but I tried making them and I'll just say you're the pro.. I'm not:) I'll never forget all the family gatherings at your house and craft shows we got to go to together. I'll always remember how much you helped me get through school- all the endless support you gave me and how much you loved me and believed in me. I know you're in a better place and spending it with grampie, and for that I find comfort. I will love you always. :heart:Jen

A mom is a very special friend whose love is always there,Who always takes an interest in each hope and dream we share,A mom is a very special friend whose help is always near,Whose understanding ways grow even dearer year by year,And that is why you "were" cherished more with every passing day,For you "were" always a special friend in every way!! I couldn't have had a better mom,All My Love, Linda

My lasting memories of course are all the wonderful holiday meals and family gatherings. The plum dumpling meals every fall as she fussed over the plums not being exactly right. The great Christmas cookies she would make every year. But this last year at the nursing homes it was such a pleasure watching her devour the shrimp plate from LJS and watch her smile as she ate the German pastries from the bakery on 4th street. Your Loving son Jim
