OCT 17, 1950 - APR 8, 2021

William “Bill” R. Voss III, 70, died peacefully in his sleep on April 8, 2021, in St. Petersburg, FL following a 10-year battle with Alzheimer’s disease.

Bill was born on October 17, 1950, in St. Petersburg, FL to William R. Voss Jr. and Betha Anderson Voss. He graduated from the University of South Florida and was a proud member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity. He was married to Bonnie Overholser Voss for 30 years before their divorce, raising two daughters together. He enjoyed a long career working for the State Comptroller's Office as a Certified Bank Examiner. Bill was an avid runner - winning many trophies - and a big Tampa Bay Rays and Tampa Bay Buccaneers fan.

Bill is survived by his mother, Bertha (96); his two children, Amy Rodenbrock (39) and Melanie Voss (35); and three grandchildren: Sophie Rodenbrock (5), Jonah Rodenbrock (3) and Reyna Voss (1). He is preceded in death by his father, William R. Voss Jr.

Funeral services will take place on Monday, April 12. In keeping with his simple nature, the service will be private and for immediate family only; however, a live stream link will be available for anyone who would like to view it. Those wishing to honor his life can make a donation in his name to the Alzheimer’s Association.

My wife, Jan, and I just heard yesterday that Bill passed away last month. I first met Bill when he was a brother of the Kappa Sigma fraternity at USF and I was a lowly pledge during the Fall Quarter, 1971. While most of the brothers gave pledges a rough time, Bill did not - he had a great sense of humor and would rather talk sports. He was an integral part of our fraternity softball team when we went undefeated (17 - 0 ?) and won the USF men's softball championship. We had a great team. Whenever the fraternity had a sports event, if Bill wasn't playing then he was always there rooting for our team. He was a great guy, a loyal brother of Kappa Sigma, and it was great to see him at one of our reunions a few years back. AEKDB, Bill. Jack Stoorza

Bill was my husband's college roommate, friend and fraternity brother. I remember well their housekeeping skills were severely lacking especially when Bill brought Grigsby (the dog) to live with them. The room often smelled a bit funky. Mostly I remember Bill was a gentleman and a very sweet and kind friend. He will be greatly missed.

Thinking of Bill and the times we shared together at church makes us smile. Scott & I always enjoyed Bill's sense of humor and he made us laugh with his witty comments. He had some great one-liners! We had such a special group of friends and Bill always joined in the fun and would try anything new. He was also right there to offer his help whenever needed. I will always remember Bill's kindness to me concerning my chronic illness, He so often took the time to ask if I needed anything or if he could get something for me. That always meant so much to me, We send our caring thoughts to Bonnie, Amy and Mel during this difficult time. Our love and prayers surround you all. Bill left a mark of love, compassion, kindness and joy on those who knew him. We are grateful to have been his friends. With our love, Lynn & Scott Gray

Bill was the person who invited Tom to run in a neighborhood race & started Tom on a life of jogging & running in races both here and when we lived in Austin ❤️ (Tom has often mentioned this) He was always friendly and had a great smile. Bill and Tom played on the church baseball team too and there was always lots of fun and laughter! Alzheimer's is such a terrible disease - Bill will be missed by many including us.

Bill was a cherished friend to my wife Ginger and I. We all met at the University of South Florida by in the early 70's. Bill and I were Fraternity Brothers with Kappa Sigma and roommates for two years. He was smart, funny and we shared a lot of great memories together. Ginger and I ended up getting married and Bill continued to be a part of our lives throughout the years. The last time we spent time with Bill was at a Kappa Sigma reunion in Tampa, in 2012, he looked great and fit. We all talked at length about our lives and what transpired during the years we were apart. We heard that he had become ill and oddly enough were searching out a way to connect with him when we saw his obituary. We were very saddened to hear the news. He was way too young to leave the world, but the memories together will last forever. Ginger and I will always remember him. We wish his entire family well and may the grace of God give them comfort over the loss of Bill. May he rest in peace in the glory of God forever. Jim and Ginger Montuoro, May 18th 2021

My deepest condolences to Amy, Melanie, Bonnie and family. I was a work colleague at Southeast Bank and very close friend. I have so many warm memories with Bill from Bank road trips, to spring training baseball games, golf and softball, 10K running races, and trips to Derby Lane. I have a picture of Bill in his burnt orange suit that he would breakout for special occasions, like weddings and trips to the Derby Club. The highlight of my year was the vacation week where we met up at spring training sites, watched baseball and drank beer. Bill enjoyed the little things in life, family, work colleagues, sports, and exercise. I know he was a proud father. God Bless you Bill, you are in a better place. Sincerely, Len and Debbie Lindberg

I was deeply distressed to hear the news of Bill's passing. While I knew he was not well, it is hard to come to grips with a world without him. I met "Billy Bob" as I would call him in the spring of '75 when I moved to Largo with the Comptroller's Office and he lived in the same apartment complex. We became great friends from the start and often commuted to work along with the late Jack Kinsella. I remember his great love of music and how we hated to be in a car with other members of the examining crew that we called the "disco bunch." My wife and I invited Bill over to dinner one night for some steaks. I was grilling on the front porch of the apartment and started to pull the steaks of the grill but Bill wanted his left on for a few more minutes. I left the BBQ fork with him and took the plate inside meaning to bring it back. I was gone for about a minute and then heard my wife scream "BILL!" as I looked to see Bill carrying his steak skewered on the fork dripping on the rug. Bill looked like "What? I do this all the time at my apartment." That was Bill. I still laugh when I think about it. There were about 25 examiners in the mid 70s in Tampa Bay so one didn't always see people for a few weeks at a time. Missing Bill was unfortunate as he always had that big smile and was one of my best audiences. The last time I remember seeing Bill was here in Tallahassee when the department had all the bank examiners in Tallahassee. I was long gone from the department at the time but was invited to join many of my old friends at Happy Hour. Bill pulled out a piece of paper and announced that he had compiled a list of what he called "Straubisms" or things that I had said over the years that Bill called more than memorable. Decorum prevents a listing of the isms. Farewell old friend. And to his family, Bill will always be remembered by so many folks and know that we share your grief.

Bonnie, Amy and Melanie, please accept our condolences and prayers. It is always sad to see a friend depart, especially one for which we had wonderful memories. I worked with Bill for many years at Southeast Bank. It was always a pleasure to work with Bill. His quick wit, hard work ethic, and his ability to get along with others were part of his many attributes. We had a very close-knit department which became an extended family enjoying getting together. We enjoyed baseball games, tennis, or golf. Bill was very competitive when we played tennis or golf and liked to win without rubbing it in. Bill liked to check towns when on road trips for sports including an occasional visit to the dog track. Bill was a very detailed person and any trip to the dog track involved a lot of research to have a winning night. On one trip he conducted his intensive research and broke even for the night. We had a good laugh. Bill could make fun of himself without making fun of others. On another road trip we dined at McGuire's restaurant in Pensacola and had a few beers with dinner Bill excused himself to go to the restroom. He came back very bewildered because the restroom doors had figures instead of the normal nomenclature. You can guess the rest but he made light of it and we had a good laugh together. Bill could be serious at times and yet he would find a way to interject his humor that would catch us by surprise. We miss those times but will not forget the fond memories we had with Bill. We know Bill has moved onto a better place. Hopefully, we will see him again someday. Alan McDonald
