Angelo always found joy in life, was always forgiving, and made you feel loved. He told the best stories. He had the best story telling skills with great timing, had us laughing all the time. I enjoyed them so much that I tried to repeat them to others but never could get the same effect, you had to be there. Angelo had a skilled eye for details, was artistic in art, sculpture and building. He recreated the Taj Mahal, for a school project and got an impressive grade of A, highest score. Angelo was my loving brother, my friend, and my dance partner. He loved life. I love you. Always will be remembered. Loving sister, Lucia and family
