I'll start with this anecdote, that says a lot about Michelle. One day, At work , in the bakery, we hid a little plastic cricket that chirped. The boss looked for it at least 10 minutes, Michelle & the crew never laughed so hard...A job is never so important, that you can't laugh !Another time (more than once) She could also tell a customer in a firm polite way, that their behavior was not appropriate for a public space. That there was no reason for them to get so upset, for a cake !This is how I'll remember Michelle: pranking someone, but in a cute funny way, not mean And also standing her ground, firmly,So there was the Michelle I knew, funny, witty, chatty, ready for a laugh, and also bravel know her absence will be a huge void in your lives, Her premature death is a reminder for all, that we need to enjoy life little pleasures, like she did. A good party meant, lots of food and drinks but most of all family and friends.I will be reminded of her when I hear chirping. Godspeed Carine, Michelle coworker
