I'am at a definite loss. Today I had seen where Elizabeth had passed away back in July. My wife Brenda and I thought the world of Elizabeth her Daughter Bella. We first met when Bren and I had moved to south side in Jacksonville. Elizabeth was our neighbor downstairs. I say this lovingly we thought she was a bit crazy but aren't we all? Liz we will miss your smile miss that kind heart. We will all be together again for the next rodeo.

My condolences to your family. I picked her up from Clearwater because she needed a place to go. She was obviously sick. A couple days later she finally agreed to go to the hospital. That was the last time I got to see her. 😞 I have a couple of her belongings she left at my house if anyone would like them.

I remember the first time I held her. She was so small, and adorable I exclaimed to the delivery room, " My god, it's a Mouse!" And I continued to call her by that her entire life. Rest in Peace Ms Mouse.

I met/worked with Liz at Charles and George's Car wash. She was one of the prettiest girls I've seen in my life. With her beautiful curly hair, her big smile and the cutest nose ever. Then to top it off, she was so nice and funny. But that back bone was strong. I haven't talked to her in a while, but I think about her from time to time, hoping she's doing well. I will continue to think about her, and remember her for the amazing woman that she was.

Elizabeth, This photo is such bad quality but proof I literally followed you everywhere, Even to work lol Back when you were working at Harbor freight tools! I always wanted to be just like my big sister. As I grow older I realize I am who I am because of you. You've always given me the best advice and stuck up for me when I couldn't say the words to do it myself. You always looked out for me and I know you'll continue to do it from above. I'll miss our fb conversations and FaceTimes. Brayden will miss his bestie too. I'm glad we got to spend your last days together. I know you knew how much I loved you from the 1,000 times I told you a day and you continued to smile, squeeze my hand and nod. You always told me how proud you were of me, and I hope you know how proud I am of you. You truly were one of a kind. I love you, even if you were a crazy! Until we meet again Sis ☐

Our first Jet-Ski ride at Clearwater Beach Florida. I had the ability to rent a jet-ski and she wanted to ride with me. I remember, she held on so tight, I could feel it under my vest, LOL. I took her up and down the beach a few times doing like 40mph and she was loving it! Hands down, the BEST memory I have with Elizabeth, and it still makes me smile. ❤️

Dear sissy, I'm really sorry I couldn't be there with you before you passed away. It hurts me deeply to think I wasn't by your side when you were finding peace. 🕊️ I wish I could have held your hand or whispered something comforting to you. This loss is so painful, and it feels hard to imagine life without you. It is difficult to put into words how much I miss you already. But even in my sadness, I will focus on the wonderful memories we created together. Those moments remind me just how special you were to me. You were such a big part of my childhood, practically raising me while I tried to keep up with you! I always followed you around, excited to learn from you in every way. Your advice was always right and helped me so much when I was feeling down. You knew just what to say to lift my spirits. Those little convos we shared, just you and me, made everything better. I'll cherish those memories forever because they remind me of your love. ❤️ I'm already missing our FaceTime calls and the random voice messages you would send me. Those little moments made my day brighter, and I am sad they are gone now. But I take comfort in knowing that you are finally at peace. You deserve that peace after everything you went through. Even though you are not here anymore, I want you to know that I love you so much. I will keep you in my heart always, and I promise to carry your spirit with me. Your love will guide me and your nephew as we move forward in life. ❤️ ☐
