Rob and I first met in 6th grade at our bus stop, once we were in high school we rode to school with our dear friend Bobby Growe and Pam... lots of laughter and music on those rides (especially "Long haired country boy" one of Bobby's favorites 😊) Losing touch after graduation, like so may do, Chad and I actually ran into him a couple of times while out... we lived life. After Chad's accident, a dear friend arranged a go fund for our family, Rob was very compassionate and generous, like with everyone I could get in touch with, I reached out to show my appreciation for their kindness and gifts, Rob was one of those people. As I struggled handling my grief around the year mark Rob reached out one late night and we talked away, he helped draw me out of a deep dark hole. Music was our thing and shared lots of memories listening to bands and playing drums.... Lots of religious talks....One of the last times I saw him he said, "Coop, I actually started praying and believing in God again." May he rest in peace and soon he'll hear his voice and come out of the memorial tomb..... Keeping all his family, especially his kids and grandchildren in my thoughts and prayers and this very sad time....he loved his family very much ❤️

I'm just learning of your passing, my friend... many of my best high school memories include you in them. Always, well mannered, even tempered and kind. A fantastic conversationalist, great sense of humor, lover of life. I've thought about you many times over the years hoping life was giving you what you gave to others. You deserved that and more. I pray you rest in peace with all the loved ones who all went before you. You were a blessing to do life with so many years ago. God bless you my friend, until we meet again....Love, Barbie

My dad was proud this day. I won't forget reading my grandfathers prayer before dinner together at my wedding. The videos of him dancing are even better than the pictures!

When Rob and I bought our first house in Oldsmar he put up a fence around the back yard. The grass was high, he mowed "I love you" into the grass after he finished the kids were running through the letters. That was one of the sweetest moments. Rob and I loved each other very much. We were not only husband and wife we were best friends at that time.
